SIR,

FOR many Years I have been conſtantly troubled at the Fall, with a bilious Diſorder in my Stomach and Bowels, for which I had frequent Advice, and took variety of Medicines, but without Effect; ſo I ſent my Caſe to a Phyſician in Town, whom I had before conſulted, and deſired him to let his Apothecary make up his Preſcription, and ſend it me down, which he did, and I took it accordingly, and found Relief for a little Time, but ſtill my Diſorder returned, and I was rather worſe than better, which induced me to go to Town, and conſult him again; when, after my telling him what little good Effect his former Preſcription had, he altered it, and ordered other Medicines to be taken and continued, which I complied with, and found myſelf at firſt taking them a little Eaſier for a ſhort Time, but laſt Autumn I was worſe than ever. I grew thin and loſt both my Spirits and Appetite to ſuch a Degree, that I did no Buſineſs with Pleaſure, and loathed even the Sight of Food. While in this very bad Way, I happened to call in upon a Friend, who perceiving me much out of Order, aſked me what was the Matter: I told him the Nature of my Complaint, and that I had Advice for it for ſome Time, both in London and the Country, and was then taking the Doctor's Preſcription, but found only a little temporary Relief; upon which he recommended [illegible] Drops: I told him I had never heard [illegible] good for my Diſorder; he aſſured me he [illegible] formed of many had been long troubled with bilious Complaints, entirely cured by them in a very little Time, which induced me to try them, and accordingly I began taking them immediately, a Table Spoonful at a Time, in a ſmall Wine Glaſs of cold Water, Night and Morning, and finding myſelf getting better very faſt, I continued them for ſome Days, and was ſurpriſingly relieved. I then was adviſed, in order that the Drops might work a more ſpeedy and effectual Cure, to take a dry Puke, which I did, and in about four or five Days after took another, ſtill continuing the Drops, which I have the Pleaſure to tell you have ſet me up, and I am now [illegible] as well as ever I was in my Life; [illegible] am thus particular in acquainting you [illegible] the Good others who may be afflicted [illegible] Complaint, which in all Probability would have been fatal to me, had I not fortunately been prevailed on to take your Drops, which from the extraordinary Cure they have wrought upon me in ſo ſhort a Time, I cannot help thinking them an almoſt infallible Remedy for bilious Diſorders; and am, Sir,

Your very humble Servant,

G.
